[REDACTED]

September 21, 1973

NY 157-8010

On January 16, 1974, six officers of the New York State Realm held a meeting at [redacted] house. [redacted] appointed [redacted] He stated other state officer positions would remain vacant at that time but would be filled as the klan expands in New York State and as additional state officers were needed.

[redacted] recommended an independent klan charter be adopted by the New York State Realm. Members present voted in favor of an independent charter with the understanding the New York State Realm be maintained within the jurisdiction of the NKKKK.

[redacted] stated that NKKKK has had internal problems at the national level caused by Imperial Wizzard JAMES VENABLE, who fears his position is threatened when state klan officers become too powerful. According to [redacted] VENABLE removed [redacted] of South Carolina for that reason.

Plans were discussed regarding the construction of a separate building to house the state klan headquarters. [redacted] stated that having a state headquarters separate from any members house would add prestige to the New York State Realm. He commented this building when used by Klavern 102 would give local klan members a feeling of belonging to a real klan and not just a social gathering.

Suggestions for future Klavern 102 meetings were discussed and included the showing of films to maintain the interest of klan members; classes on outdoor survival techniques and having workshop type meetings. [redacted] stated that one Klan Kraft lecture must be given at each klavern meeting.

B. Klavern 102 Meetings

During the period April 11, 1973 through February 8, 1974, inclusive, Klavern 102 conducted 22 meetings stressing the review and practice of klan ritual ceremonies. Discussions also centered on admitting new members; opening new klaverns in New York State and planning for a klavern clambake. Klan literature printed on printing presses operated by members of Klavern 102 was assembled during these meetings for distribution by the klan in the southern states.

C. Klavern 102 Clambake

On August 12, 1973, a clambake sponsored by the New York State Realm, NKKKK, was held at the residence of [redacted] New York. Approximately 65 persons attended the clambake which began at 1:00 pm. Local klavern members, visiting klansmen, their families and guests were served food and refreshments and utilized a swimming pool located by [redacted] residence.

Around 3:00 pm, [redacted] addressed the gathering stating he was proud to be a member of the great white Christian American order, the NKKKK. He stated the NKKKK is the only order that is for white Christian Americans while blacks and Jews have communist backing.

[redacted] then directed his remarks towards the history of the klan talking for approximately 20 minutes before turning the platform over to [redacted] of South Carolina.

[redacted] commented he was proud to be a klansman and was very happy to be invited to a gathering of northern white Christian Americans. He related the klan order is only as strong as its membership and that solid growth even in small numbers is the way to a successful klavern. He spoke on the growth of the NKKKK during the past ten years, concluding his remarks around 4:00 pm.

NY 157-8010

[] thanked [] for being so kind as to travel over 1,200 miles to speak to a small gathering of concerned people.

VII. PUBLICATIONS

Klavern 102, Pine Bush, New York, continues to be the location for the NKKKK national printing headquarters. Printing of klan literature or other materials is done at the residence of [redacted] on a A.B. Dick Offset Printing Press and an old 1847 Kick Printing Press.

[redacted]
February 9, 1974

On May 9, 1973, [redacted] received a request from [redacted] to print 2,000 copies of the NKKKK Kloran. [redacted] could not fill this order until supplies were received from a printing wholesaler. Three thousand business cards were printed bearing the NKKKK New York State Realm address. No reason was given as to how these cards would be used.

[redacted]

In addition, small bumper stickers were printed bearing the klan name to be used by Klavern 102 members when traveling.

[redacted]
May 18, 1973

On May 26, 1973, 34 printing plates for printing of the Kloran requested by [redacted] were prepared. These plates would be printed during a Klavern 102 meeting on May 30, 1973.

[redacted]
June 6, 1973

On June 30, 1973, during a Klavern 102 meeting, [redacted] stated 300 copies of the Kloran printed by that Klavern had been mailed by parcel post, June 29, 1973, to [redacted] in South Carolina.

[redacted]
July 6, 1973

Klavern 102 has not done any printing on either its printing press or offset printer since October, 1973, because [redacted] He postponed all klan printing and activities until he feels he can again resume work. He did, however, schedule a Klavern 102 meeting on January 8, 1974 and a state klan meeting on January 16, 1974.

[redacted] has requested that literature be printed on the Klan ceremony, klan funeral, klan history and random klan handouts.

The National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Incorporated (NKKKK) was granted a charter in Georgia in 1963 as a "patriotic," secret, social, and benevolent order. One copy of the airtel as well as one copy of the LHM is enclosed for Atlanta.

Page 2, paragraph 1 of the LHM contains information indicating [redacted] stated he believes there would soon be a large scale clash between blacks and whites. [redacted] recommended that all whites "arm themselves in readiness," for such time. He advocated "breaking up" the Klan into dens so that it would be more difficult for "undercover agents" to infiltrate the Klan. He stated he would be the only one who would know the total Klan membership in the State of Louisiana.

Atlanta, as office of origin in the case pertaining to the NKKKK, should promptly advise whether the NKKKK is advocating such armed readiness and separation into "dens." Atlanta should also alert all auxiliary offices having investigations concerning the NKKKK to this information and be certain the Bureau and Atlanta are kept advised of any indications of such activity on the part of the organization or the individual units.

Re: National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc. (NKKKK)

New Orleans is reminded that the NKKKK is headquartered at Stone Mountain, Georgia, and James R. Yonable is the Imperial Wizard. Since Atlanta is office of origin, all pertinent data pertaining to that organization should be furnished to Atlanta as well as the Bureau.

In the future, it would be desirable for New Orleans to put pertinent information pertaining to [] and the NKKKK and "The Crusader" in separate communications suitable for dissemination rather than under triple code captions. This is specifically important for channelizing data properly at the Bureau; dissemination of information to other interested U. S. Government agencies and so that information contained in one file will not necessarily be available in the other files unless it is pertinent to the specific case.

With regard to "The Crusader," New Orleans should be certain the Bureau is furnished with at least two copies of each issue sent; in addition, New Orleans should submit an LHM containing a summary of pertinent information in each issue when such information would be of interest to other U. S. Government agencies.

NOTE:

New Orleans sent information in referenced communications, which should be commented upon by office of origin. The NKKKK has recently expanded with new units in several localities where they did not previously exist because other Klan organizations have disbanded with some members going to the NKKKK. Since we have not yet received the annual report due from Atlanta, 3/15/74, it is being left to Atlanta to check with appropriate auxiliary offices. Triple captions containing information disseminated is not desirable, particularly since such cumulative data should not be available under multi captions in view of the Freedom of Information Act, which might permit access at some later date to one or more of the files involved. We should also have benefit of the publication issued by the group in Louisiana.

The National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc. (NKKKK) was granted a charter in Georgia in 1963 as a "patriotic, secret, social, and benevolent order". The NKKKK, a consolidation of various klans in southern states, continues to be anti-Negro, anti-Jewish, anti-Catholic and anti-foreign born.

On March 18, 1974, confidential sources [redacted] who have furnished reliable information in the past, advised the Bucks County Chapter # 31, NKKKK, held a parade, March 17, 1974, on Street Road, Bensalem Township, Pa. Sources advised there were approximately 17 robed Klansmen present for the march. The purpose of the march was to protest recent school bussing laws.

According to sources, the Klansmen carried signs protesting the school bussing laws. Sources advised the march lasted about one hour, from noon till 1:00, and was very poorly attended because the weather was very cold and snow flurries occurred.

[redacted] advised one Klansman from New Jersey was in the march, [redacted] The source also recognized one United Klans of America (UKA) member in parade from York, Pa., [redacted] The rest of the march participants were local members or supporters of the NKKKK.

MARCH 17, 1974

The United Klans of America, Incorporated (UKA, Inc.), was chartered in 1961 in Georgia. Its purported aims and purposes are the promotion of Americanism, white supremacy, and segregation of the races. It is the dominant Klan group in the South with headquarters at Tuscaloosa, Ala., and is currently active in several states.

The UKA, Inc., Realm of Pennsylvania (UKA,PA) has no official leader in the state and each klavern is directly responsible to the National Headquarters of the UKA, Inc., Tuscaloosa, Ala. Each klavern adheres to the same aims and objectives as the parent organization, which are the promotion of Americanism, white supremacy, and segregation of the races.

Both sources advised there were no incidents necessitating direct action by law enforcement authorities.

Title: NATIONAL KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN, INC.

Character: EXTREMIST MATTERS -
KLAN

Synopsis: National Headquarters of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., (NKKKK), located at Stone Mountain, Georgia. Officers, membership, and activities in Georgia set forth. Activities of Klaverns in Ohio, New York, South Carolina, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey set forth.

DETAILS: This investigation is based on information which indicates that the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., is engaged in activities which could involve a violation of Title 18, U.S. Code, Section 241 (Conspiracy Against Rights of Citizens); Section 245 (Federally Protected Activities), Civil Rights Act of 1968; or related Civil Rights Statutes.

The National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., (NKKKK) was granted a charter in Georgia in 1963 as a "patriotic, secret, social, benevolent order". The NKKKK, a consolidation of various Klans in Southern States, continues to be anti-Negro, anti-Jewish, anti-Catholic, and anti-foreign born.

I. ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

A. Headquarters

Headquarters for the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (NKKKK) is located on the property of Imperial Wizard JAMES R. VENABLE, 900 VFW Drive, Stone Mountain, Georgia.

Sources whose identities are concealed herein have furnished reliable information in the past except where otherwise noted.

b2
b7D

3/13/74

AT 157-60

B. Charter Information

At a meeting of the NKKKK held in Tucker, Georgia, on September 6, 1964, Imperial Wizard JAMES R. VENABLE announced that he had incorporated the NKKKK, and that it was being operated as a separate Klan, the same as the other Klans having membership in the national group.

[REDACTED] 9/16/64

The NKKKK was granted a charter in DeKalb County, Georgia, on November 1, 1963, under the name of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc.

There has been no change in the charter status of the NKKKK.

[REDACTED] 3/13/74

C. Objectives

The NKKKK was chartered as a patriotic, secret, social, and benevolent order. In December, 1963, the NKKKK issued a statement of its program, which indicated the organization to be anti-Negro, anti-Jewish, anti-Catholic, and anti-foreign born.

[REDACTED] 3/13/74

The objectives of the NKKKK have not changed since the organization was formed. Imperial Wizard JAMES R. VENABLE, however, does not advocate any form of violence in the settlement of racial issues.

[REDACTED] 3/13/74

D. National Officers

The NKKKK has only one active national officer, Imperial Wizard JAMES R. VENABLE, an Atlanta attorney. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] might still be considered the head of [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] however, she has been at odds with VENABLE and Georgia [REDACTED] of late.

[REDACTED] 3/13/74

AT 157-60

E. National Organization Activities

The only real national organization activity of the NKKKK is the annual rally and cross burning held on Labor Day weekend each year on the property of JAMES R. VENABLE in Stone Mountain, Georgia. The only other activity which could be considered national organization character are the travels of JAMES R. VENABLE around the country to make speeches on behalf of the NKKKK.

[redacted] 3/13/74

During the past year, meetings of the NKKKK [redacted] [redacted] were held on the following dates at the following locations:

[redacted] Spartanburg, South Carolina
- Atlanta, Georgia
- Columbus, Ohio

The ostensible purpose of these meetings was to promote unity among Klan and right-wing groups. However, these meetings have produced no such results and in fact have further splintered members of the Board, as witnessed by the fact [redacted] is enraged at VENABLE for appointing a new Grand Dragon of the NKKKK in South Carolina.

VENABLE, in fact, also cancelled the December 1, 1973 meeting in Columbus, Ohio, when it looked as if [redacted] [redacted] would attempt to take control of the NKKKK at this meeting.

It would appear then that the members of the Pilot Committee Board were using this Board as a vehicle to enhance their own positions in the NKKKK and thus be in a position to take control of the organization from VENABLE when the opportunity presented itself.

F. Publications and Propaganda

Klavern 102, Pine Bush, New York, continues to be the location for the NKKKK National Printing Headquarters. Printing of Klan literature or other materials is done at the residence of [redacted] on an A. B. Dick off-set printing press and an old 1847 Kick printing press.

[redacted] 2/9/74

G. Cross Burnings and Rallies in Georgia

A rally and cross burning sponsored by the Hart County Klavern of the NKKKK were held on Saturday evening, June 9, 1973, outside of Hartwell, Georgia. The rally started at 8:00 p.m., one hour later than originally planned due to the inclement weather.

Approximately 125 people attended and heard JAMES VENABLE give a speech on the history of the Klan.

[redacted] 6/10/73

Annual Rally

The annual rally and cross burning of the NKKKK took place on Saturday evening, September 1, 1973, on the property of NKKKK Imperial Wizard JAMES R. VENABLE, located at the foot of Stone Mountain, Stone Mountain, Georgia.

Approximately 500 people attended the rally, 80 of them wearing Klan robes.

Imperial Wizard JAMES R. VENABLE gave the principal speech in which he stated that the Klan stood by the American flag and was in the forefront of its defense. VENABLE called on those present "to keep the blood lines pure" and urged the deportation of Negroes back to Africa.

After VENABLE concluded his speech, a young couple wearing Klan robes mounted the speaker's platform and were married in a brief ceremony, the first marriage ever performed in the 40 year history of the rally.

[redacted] 9/2/73

AT 157-60

On February 17, 1974, 25 Klansmen, 17 of them wearing robes, led by Georgia NKKKK [redacted] and Imperial Wizard JAMES R. VENABLE, marched around the State Capitol in Atlanta, Georgia, to protest the unveiling of the portrait of the late Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

[redacted] 2/17/74

H. Klaverns

Meetings are held on Wednesday of each week at the Klavern located on the property of JAMES R. VENABLE at Stone Mountain, Georgia. These meetings are attended by between 10-15 Klansmen, male and female. Most of these people are older Klansmen. They gather to discuss ways to build up the Klan and increase the membership and do little else.

[redacted] 3/13/74

The Hart County Klavern has been inactive since June, 1973, when it held a rally. This is because [redacted] [redacted] has been ill and moved from the Hartwell area.

[redacted] 3/13/74

Efforts have been made to start Klaverns at Tifton, Winder, and Flowery Branch, Georgia, but to date, nothing has come of these efforts and it appears no Klaverns will be started in these areas.

VI. ACTIVITY

A. New York State Realm Meetings

On September 19, 1973, a meeting of the New York State Realm, NKKKK was held at the residence of [REDACTED] with four state officers present. Klan ritual ceremonies including naturalization and meeting procedures were discussed and practiced. Printing plates were made to print klan application, for membership forms and small hand-out cards bearing the name "INVISIBLE EMPIRE, NATIONAL KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN, POST OFFICE BOX 13, PINE BUSH, N.Y.".

[REDACTED]
September 21, 1973

NY 157-8010

On January 16, 1974, six officers of the New York State Realm held a meeting at [redacted] appointed [redacted]. He stated other state officer positions would remain vacant at that time but would be filled as the klan expands in New York State and as additional state officers were needed.

[redacted] recommended an independent klan charter be adopted by the New York State Realm. Members present voted in favor of an independent charter with the understanding the New York State Realm be maintained within the jurisdiction of the NKKKK.

[redacted] commented a new independent klan charter could not officially be adopted until incorporation papers were properly filed. A name for the independent klan charter was discussed but not selected at this time.

[redacted] stated that NKKKK has had internal problems at the national level caused by Imperial Wizzard JAMES VENABLE, who fears his position is threatened when state klan officers become too powerful. According to [redacted] VENABLE removed [redacted] of South Carolina for that reason.

Plans were discussed regarding the construction of a separate building to house the state klan headquarters. [redacted] stated that having a state headquarters separate from any members house would add prestige to the New York State Realm. He commented this building when used by Klavern 102 would give local klan members a feeling of belonging to a real klan and not just a social gathering.

Suggestions for future Klavern 102 meetings were discussed and included the showing of films to maintain the interest of klan members; classes on outdoor survival techniques and having workshop type meetings. [redacted] stated that one Klan Kraft lecture must be given at each klavern meeting.

B. Klavern 102 Meetings

During the period April 11, 1973 through February 8, 1974, inclusive, Klavern 102 conducted 22 meetings stressing the review and practice of klan ritual ceremonies. Discussions also centered on admitting new members; opening new klaverns in New York State and planning for a klavern clambake. Klan literature printed on printing presses operated by members of Klavern 102 was assembled during these meetings for distribution by the klan in the southern states.

On August 12, 1973, a clambake sponsored by the New York State Realm, NKKKK, was held at the residence of [redacted] Pine Bush, New York. Approximately 65 persons attended the clambake which began at 1:00 pm. Local klavern members, visiting klansmen, their families and guests were served food and refreshments and utilized a swimming pool located by [redacted] residence.

Around 3:00 pm, [redacted] addressed the gathering stating he was proud to be a member of the great white Christian American order, the NKKKK. He stated the NKKKK is the only order that is for white Christian Americans while blacks and Jews have communist backing.

[redacted] then directed his remarks towards the history of the klan talking for approximately 20 minutes before turning the platform over to [redacted] of South Carolina.

[redacted] commented he was proud to be a klansman and was very happy to be invited to a gathering of northern white Christian Americans. He related the klan order is only as strong as its membership and that solid growth even in small numbers is the way to a successful klavern. He spoke on the growth of the NKKKK during the past ten years, concluding his remarks around 4:00 pm.

II. ACTIVITIES

A. Public Activities

The NKKKK Realm of Ohio, held a rally during the evening of May 19, 1973, at Loveland Park, Ohio.

[] gave the main address of the evening. JAMES VENABLE, Imperial Wizard of the NKKKK, Stone Mountain, Georgia, also addressed those in attendance. [] spoke against the Congress of the United States, the present administration and the bussing problem. [] related that the Negroes are united and that the white people must unite for the preservation of the white race. VENABLE also condemned the present political scene and made several anti-Negro statements.

On August 4, 1973, a closed meeting of the NKKKK, Realm of Ohio was held at the home of [] Fayetteville, Ohio. The purpose of this meeting was to make plans for an NKKKK rally to be held the next day, August 5, 1973 at the Hara Arena in Dayton, Ohio. During this meeting, [] stated that the rally in Dayton the next day would make or break the Klan. He advised it was important to have a large turnout because he had rented the Hara Arena for $500 plus the fact that radio, television and newspapers had all been alerted to the rally and he did not want any bad publicity.

On August 5, 1973, the NKKKK held the above-mentioned rally at the Hara Arena, Dayton, Ohio. Attendance at the rally was poor; not more than 40 individuals were noted in attendance. Speakers at this rally included [] from Indiana. [] in his speech announced he would run for Governor for the State of Ohio in the next election and spent his time talking about current problems such as drugs, crime, and the fact that the centralized government is presently too distant from the people. [] was more volatile in his speech and accused Negroes of being "inferior beings". It was a comical blow to the NKKKK as a whole and [] in particular because the Hara Arena was equipped to seat around 1,000 individuals and no more than 40 attended the rally.

IX. MISCELLANECUS

The following article concerning the NKKKK realm of Ohio appeared in the Dayton "News," Dayton, Ohio, on August 6, 1973:

RE:

NATIONAL KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN
REALM OF OHIO

Plenty of Seats, Few Sheets

By DAVID LYON
Daily News Staff Writer

Suppose they held a Ku Klux Klan rally and nobody came.

It just about happened here Sunday. Dale Reusch of Lodi, Ohio, state grand dragon for the National Knights of the KKK, had rented Wampler's Ballarena for his first Dayton-area rally.

Wampler's set out 984 seats for the occasion, but there were no more than 20 persons in the hall during speeches by Reusch, Indiana grand dragon William Chaney and two Klan chaplains.

REUSCH, WHO plans to run for governor next year in the Democratic primary, said the United States is living on borrowed time. Government is becoming more centralized and more distant from the people, crime and drug problems are increasing, and large corporations and foreign interests are becoming more influential.

"I give us three years," he said. "I'm here to try to awaken the people to save their country."

He indicated he will return to Dayton, perhaps in the fall.

He called for stiffer drug laws, "removing the handcuffs" from police, a strong stand against communism, a ceiling on political campaign expenditures, opposition to regional government and tougher immigration laws.

A NEWSMAN asked Reusch how he could hope to be elected governor, considering the Klan's image as an anti-black, anti-Catholic, anti-Jewish organization.

"The Klan is not anti-black, anti-Catholic, or anti-Jewish," Reusch responded. "We are pro-Christian Americanism. Today's Klan is looking for pure Americans to protect the interests of this nation."

Reusch's theme of moderation was lost on subsequent speakers. Chaney set the public address system humming with energetic defense of white supremacy. Klan Kludds (chaplains) Marvin Miller of Columbus and Joseph Kozma did likewise.

"This is a white man's country, and I feel it's time we reclaimed our own," Chaney declared. "It's time we stand up and fight for law and order."

Chaney called blacks "an inferior being, the lowest form of humanity," and Miller implied that the biblical "beasts of the field" was a reference to blacks.

RE: NATIONAL KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN
REALM OF OHIO

The following article appeared in "The Journal Her-
Dayton, Ohio on August 6, 1973:

KKK chief plans bid for governor

Dale Reusch is a 34-year-old auto worker who'd like to make John J. Gilligan a one-term governor.

Reusch, who said he just missed being elected Medina County sheriff last year, tried to drum up support yesterday during a Dayton rally of his chief followers, the Ku Klux Klan.

Reusch, the Klan's Ohio grand dragon for five years, plans to run in next year's Democratic primary if he can get the backing. The fact that the incumbent governor is a Democrat doesn't bother him.

"Gilligan is going to be a one-term governor, anyway, because he's disliked by the working people," Reusch said. "He's brought more taxes than any other governor, even Jimmy Rhodes."

Reusch says he'll also fight Cleveland businessman Howard Metzenbaum's Senate bid, as he did in 1970, because the millionaire doesn't hire union employees, despite his claims of concern for unions.

The head Klansman has worked at the Ford plant in one out in the countryside.

Bronk Park, a Cleveland suburb, for 16 years and has run unsuccessfully for union office. He lives in Lodi, about 35 miles south of Cleveland, where he used to have a farm.

Reusch says he wants to be governor to help clean up government at both the state and national levels. He says his platform will include opposition to gun controls and big central government and support for strong narcotics laws.

State officials "have got to realize they represent the working people, not just high corporations," he said.

Reusch was hoping yesterday to increase Klan membership as well as promote his own candidacy.

But the turnout disappointed him and he blamed "poor publicity by the news media."

He estimated 150 to 200 persons showed up at Wampler's Ballarena during the four-hour rally. Only about 25 were still there near the end.

So Reusch plans another Dayton area rally in the fall, that

YOUTH'S PROTEST MEETING

KKK Group, Pickets Clash

By NED STOUT
Of The Dispatch Staff

A handful of Ku Klux Klan members clashed briefly Saturday evening with a small group of protestors outside a klan rally at the Holiday Inn, 1301 Stringtown Rd., Grove City.

Grove City police, who called in all available men in anticipation of a disturbance, moved in speedily to break up the fight. The fray started as a KKK member attempted to enter an outside door into the rally meeting room as the 20 protestors paraded around the building.

POLICE ORDERED the pickets, believed to be Peoples Labor Party (PLP) members from the Ohio State University area, out of the parking lot and there was no further disturbance.

The most serious injury reported was to a KKK member who suffered a slight head laceration. One of the pickets struck him with the handle of anti-Klan placard, during the scuffling.

After the PLP pickets wandered off into the night, several other young persons, who said they were representatives of the Columbus Young Socialist Alliance passed out handbills at the motel entrance, protesting the KKK meeting.

ABOUT NINE of the group filtered into the meeting room where they watched a KKK wedding ceremony and listened to a battery of speakers headed by Dale Reusch of Lodi, Ohio. Reusch, 34, is Grand Dragon of the Ohio Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. He said he is passing petitions in an effort to become the Democrat nominee for Ohio governor in 1974.

Before the speakers, who generally lambasted President Nixon, Governor Gilligan, most elected politicians, the UN, immigrants, the press and "the international bankers conspiracy, a Cleveland couple, wearing white KKK robes was married by a clergyman flown in from Detroit, especially for the ceremony.

A cross, outlined with red light bulbs, was the principal decoration as the Rev. Kenneth Jameson, 31, pastor of the Mountain Church of Jesus Christ the Savior, nervously conducted the service.

JAMESON, WHO later said it was the first wedding he had performed, had not earlier met the nuptial couple, Russell L. Chewning, 24, and Susan Kurtz, 23.

Jameson wore a black robe with the inscription, "Don't Tread on Me" embroidered on the chest. He said he is not a Klansman, "but we preach quite a bit of their doctrine."

A DOZEN Klansmen, in robes of red, white and green, formed a double line behind the couple during the ceremonies. Only one, briefly, wore a black mask over his face.

Reusch presented the couple with a Bible, signed by all the Klan leaders who had attended the rally of about 50 persons.

REUSCH SAID interest in

The KKK is growing and while he would not give exact figures he estimated the Ohio membership at between 8,000 and 9,000.

Among those attending the rally was Marvin Miller, of Miller's Trailer Court, Sheppard Rd., Lockbourne, leader of the Central Ohio KKK.

Before the formalities, a tape recorder played "Dixie" and various KKK songs. In the rear on the room were tables with an array of Klan souvenirs, ash trays, belt buckles and wall plaques for sale.

Reusch warned his listeners that "the Commies have 18 million people scheduled to perish in the United States."

"WE'VE BEEN misrepresented by a bunch of cheap politicians who owe their allegiance to the United Nations even though they took their oaths to the United States," Reusch said.

"... We'll be lucky to have another presidential election, what with the man in Washington now a dictator."

He warned that the government still maintains "12 or 13 of the concentration camps they had for the Japanese in World War II" for future political dissenters.

A Holiday Inn spokesman said the motel management was not aware, when Miller first reserved the room, it would be used by the KKK. Miller, the spokesman said, merely told the reservation clerk he wanted the space

"for a political meeting." Only after an advertisement was published in mid-week for the rally, did Holiday know it would host the Klan.

of Lodi, Grand Dragon of the Ohio Knights of the KKK. Flanking the young couple, Susan Kurtz, 23, and Russell L. Chewning, 24, Carolyn Howard and Winford O'Dell, also of Cleveland. (Dispatch Photo)

Each klavern adheres to the same aims and objectives as the parent organization, which are the promotion of Americanism, white supremacy, and segregation of the races.

A source has described the National States Rights Party (NSRP) as an anti-Negro, anti-Semitic, white racist "political party" composed of past members of klan-type organizations and other right-wing groups.

All the speakers gave speeches extolling the virtues of the Klan and urged their listeners to join the Klan if they had not already done so. After the speeches, a thirty foot cross was burned while the robed Klansmen circled it.

The rally ended at 10:45 p.m. There were no incidents of violence.

[] at that time was contacting klan groups in various states and described himself as being the head of the "Nationalist Party", P. O. Box 50065, New Orleans, La. As a matter of fact, [] spoke at the klan rally and was undoubtedly a Negro and Jew hater. He said about 6 months ago he had a call from [] at which time [] told him he believed he was going to move to Atlanta, Ga., and be full-time [] for JAMES VENABLE's National Klan. Source said this has never happened, and he has never seen [] in Atlanta nor has JAMES VENABLE ever mentioned [] being [] of the National Klan. He felt that [] statement about a large scale clash between blacks and whites is typical of the way [] talks all the time. Source said he is of the opinion [] is obsessed with this subject matter and believes what he says.

Source said that from what he can recall, [] operated out of New Orleans and back in 1972 that group joined with the White Nationalist Party.

During recent months, the ^{Memphis} National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (NKKKK), Realm of Ohio, have been beset with continuous leadership problems and defections by various factions. As a result of this and financial problems, the NKKKK has sponsored no state wide rallies and has only held sectional type meetings and initiations. On January 3, 1974, [redacted] advised that [redacted] was currently having a land contract dispute with a Klansman from the Cleveland, Ohio area. The Klansman claimed no responsibility for a $6,000 debt which [redacted] claimed he owed.

MEMBER OF SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

On February 3, 1974, [] advised that a small meeting of the NKKKK was held on the farm of [] in Oregonia, Ohio, commencing at 2:00 p.m. and ending at 6:00 p.m. Source advised that [] did not attend this meeting, but [] apparently had been at [] previously that day. Source stated that according to [] got an urgent phone call from Dayton, Ohio concerning Klan business and thereafter departed for Dayton.

Source further advised that there was no initiation of any new Klan members at this meeting, but only the mention of [] attempt to run in the primary for the Governor of Ohio. Source stated that [] still lacked 300 signatures for qualification.

Source advised further that it appeared as though [] had called the meeting and planned to have [] attend so that some internal problems could be ironed out. Source also added that [] made a comment at this meeting that money is coming into the Klan by way of [] but that this money apparently never gets past [] and is never sent to the National Headquarters. It was also remarked by another Klan member at this function that he doubted whether [] would ever come back [] residence since [] did not see eye-to-eye.

On February 12, 1974, [] also advised that a Klan meeting was held in the Dayton area on February 3, 1974 and that this meeting was called for by members of the Dayton Chapter because of a possible split of a significant number of Klan members under the leadership of [] into the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan under the leadership of [] of Louisiana. Source stated that an individual named [] from the Dayton area has significant influence over the Klansmen in the Dayton area and that [] has not been on friendly terms with [] and that [] had suspended [] from his position as [] of the Dayton Klan. Source added that [] action in this suspension was based upon an impulse since he thought that [] was conspiring against him to merge into the Louisiana Klan. Source also added that much of this information originally had come from the Cleveland Chapter of the Klan who were also at odds with [] at this time.

Source stated that the Cleveland faction had furnished the Dayton Chapter information concerning [] allegedly using $6,000 of Klan funds for his personal use. [] in reply to this allegation stated that his monthly state revenue was $300 at a maximum. [] later advised in confidence that his monthly income has never exceeded $150 since many of his 150 members in the State of Ohio are regularly delinquent in their membership dues and that the little revenue that he does bring is rapidly absorbed by his traveling and printing overhead.

Source advised that the meeting in the Dayton, Ohio area was eventually settled and that a vote was taken by the Dayton Chapter to remain with the Klan under the leadership []. Source stated that [] expects this harmony to be short lived, however, and that he had compromised at the Dayton meeting only for the sake of diplomacy. [] hopes for [] to make a wrong move in the near future and he will take advantage of this opportunity to make ROSS lose support from his followers in the Dayton area.

On the same date, source advised that [] only filed 1,147 signatures which were unable to qualify him for the primary nomination for the Democratic ticket for the Governorship of Ohio. Source advised that [] was very disappointed with the overall performance of his Klan membership during his campaign efforts. Source stated that petitions were circulated in the Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio areas but that [] from Columbus did not circulate any petitions.

RE: NATIONAL KNIGHTS OF THE KU
KLUX KLAN, INC. (NKKKK)

On the same date, [] further advised that the Ohio Klan dues are still $2.00 per month or $24 per year. However, [] is now requiring an advanced payment for the year. Source stated that the new 1974 Klan membership cards have been printed and thus far, only two members of the Ohio NKKKK have prepaid their dues and are carrying current membership cards. Source added that in the past, most members have never even paid their dues and with this new procedure, there may be very few card carrying members in the Ohio Klan.

MEMBER OF SUBJECT ORGANIZATION

On February 7, 1974, [] advised that [] of the New Jersey Realm of the National Klan, reported that he had been talking to some members of the National Klan in Ohio about going independent. He stated that these individuals are interested in going independent if assurance is given that [] is not appointed Grand Dragon.

On March 13, 1974, [] advised that a Klan meeting was held in Cleveland, Ohio on the night of March 1, 1974 in which [] the leader of the Cleveland Faction and [] had to be physically separated from an inevitable fist fight. Both individuals were intoxicated at the time and they shouted obscenities back and forth. [] complained about informants in the Klan and [] swindling of Klansmen. Source stated that this meeting was not called for nor controlled by [] and that [] mentioned that he will call for another meeting in the Cleveland area in the future in which he will be in full control.

Source further advised that the Cleveland Faction is currently making statements to the effect that they may entirely pull out of the NKKKK under [] and join the UKA under []

RE: NATIONAL KNIGHTS OF THE KU
KLUX KLAN, INC. (NKKKK)

On March 22, 1974, [] stated that [] recently advised that an NKKKK Imperial Board meeting was scheduled for the residence of JAMES VENABLE at Stone Mountain, Georgia in the later part of April. [] indicated that he did not feel that he would be able to attend this board meeting, however. [] made no other mention of Klan events in the near future and source stated that [] is spending all of his time and efforts on the campaign as a write-in candidate for the upcoming gubernatorial election.

On April 10, 1974, same source advised that [] is still continuing all his efforts towards the election and is spending no time with Klan affairs. Source stated that this is a source of trouble for various Klan factions in the State of Ohio, namely, the Units in Cleveland and Dayton, Ohio who are upset with [] activities and his handling of Klan. Source stated that individuals in these Units feel that [] is spending his time in his own behalf to build his own ego, rather than to forward the purposes of the white race through the Klan.

Source continued that [] mentioned that he was thinking of attending the Imperial Board meeting scheduled for the later part of April, so that he could go and tell everyone off, including JAMES VENABLE, concerning the operation of the Klan in general and especially the performance of the Imperial Wizard. [] again stated that he did not feel that he would be able to attend this meeting because of a lack of money. Source added that [] is in such poor financial straits at the present time that he has had to borrow money to go to work. [] also made a statement that the board meeting may be postponed until sometime in May, at which time he would re-consider attending.

RE: NATIONAL KNIGHTS OF THE KU
KLUX KLAN, INC. (NKKKK)

Source advised that [] rented the Great Hall, area 3 of the Holiday Inn in Brook Park on Brookpark Road in Cleveland, Ohio on March 29, 1974. [] held this occasion to have a "Meet Your Candidate Night" and to further their bids for the upcoming election. Source added that this event was an absolute failure. [] expected an attendance of some 400 people and only three people showed up, which included the two guest speakers.

On the same date, source advised that [] stated that after he had suspended the Dayton and Cleveland Chapters of his Ohio organization, he has only been able to salvage 40% of his original forces. Source added that that 40% could not be more than 35 members and supporters and according to the Grand Dragon, that membership is not a contributive quality.

On April 23, 1974, [] advised that [] of the New Jersey Realm, recently reported that [] was planning to go over to the Independent Klan after the election for governor in Ohio.

On April 22, 1974, [] advised that [] held another campaign rally at the Defiance, Ohio Holiday Inn on April 13, 1974.

Source also advised that [] from Dayton, Ohio has replied to [] letter suspending him as []. The source stated that the sarcastic handwritten response containing three pages, indicated that [] his 55 members are independent of [] jurisdiction and [] is subservient to the Dayton Chapter when he is acting in the capacity of Grand Dragon at Klan functions in Dayton. [] also mentioned that he is considering blasting [] in the local papers regarding his mismanagement of the NKKKK funds. Source stated that [] has already taken steps to stifle the effectiveness of the Dayton Chapter. [] bought a paid ad in a local Dayton newspaper, declaring the transmission of Klan mail from [] Post Office Box to a Box number rented out by another individual more to [] liking.

Source added that [] is also having press problems, with his own printing press. [] stated that he may have to invest $100 to overhaul the offset press so that it will function properly. [] has also boasted recently that he has taken in a number of new applicants in the Klan, despite his current hassle and unrest with various factions in the State of Ohio.

On February 7, 1974, the "Akron Beacon Journal" Akron, Ohio contained the following article regarding the subject:

Top Klansman From Lodi Opposes Gilligan

By RONALD D. CLARK

Acron Journal-Columbus Bureau

COLUMBUS — Forty-nine candidates for 10 statewide offices broke from the gate Wednesday as the official filing deadline passed at 4 p. m.

The pack — three candidates smaller than the 52 who ran for the same number of offices in 1970 — includes six entrants with the surname of Brown, three O'Neills, a Kennedy, a Taft and the Grand Dragon of the Ohio Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (KKK).

There was only one minor last-minute surprise. State Rep. Robert W. Jaskulski (D-Garfield Heights), who had indicated he would run for secretary of state, instead filed for reelection.

THERE ARE Republican and Democratic candidates for every race. However, 11 of the candidates, including seven incumbents, have no opposition in the May primary.

The seven are Lt. Gov. John W. Brown of Medina, Republican; Atty. Gen. William J. Brown of Lisbon, Democrat; Secretary of State Ted W. Brown of Dublin, Republican; Treasurer Gertrude W. Donahy of Columbus, Democrat; Chief Justice C. William O'Neill of the Ohio Supreme Court, Upper Arlington, Republican; Associate Justice Frank D. Celebrezze of Parma, Democrat, and Associate Justice Thomas M. Herbert of Dublin, Republican.

Five of the entrants are from the Akron area. In addition to Lt. Gov. Brown of Medina, they are Akron Councilman James R. Williams, a Democratic lieutenant governor candidate; David D. Dowd Jr. of Massillon, Stark County prosecutor and a Republican attorney general candidate; Peter E. Voss, Canton businessman and a Republican U. S. Senate candidate, and Dale R. Reusch of Lodi, a Democratic candidate for governor.

REUSCH, 34, one of three Democrats challenging Gov. Gilligan, is the top Ku Klux Klan official in Ohio.

The auto worker at Ford's Brook Park plant in suburban Cleveland was the last candidate to file, depositing petitions bearing 1,172 signatures with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown 20 minutes before the deadline.

Reusch, a Klansman since 1969, said he encountered car trouble along Interstate 71 north of Columbus and had to call a friend, Klan chaplain Marvin L. Miller of Columbus, to transport him the rest of the way.

"I almost had a heart attack," said the 285-pound Reusch. "I was determined to get there. I would have had a Highway Patrolman bring me in if necessary, even if I had to pay my way."

ALTHOUGH he said he voted for Gilligan in 1970, Reusch said he was challenging the Governor now because Gilligan no longer has the respect of many working people.

He said he is not running as the candidate of the KKK, although he is "not ashamed" of his position in the group, which has 5,000 Ohio members, he said.

"I know there will be lots of slurs for my belonging," said Reusch, father of two sons. But he explained that a number of distinguished Americans have been members, including several former presidents.

Reusch finished second in a two-man race for the Democratic nomination for Medina County sheriff in 1972.

Upon hearing some time ago that Reusch might be a candidate, Gilligan said he hoped Reusch would not "rip over his sheet." Reusch later said he no longer wears sheets, but "a tailor-made robe."

WILLIAMS, in his third term as Akron's Fourth Ward councilman, is the only black candidate for statewide office.

He said he would concentrate his efforts in the lieutenant governor's race "on helping cities solve their problems."

He said he intends to meet with mayors of Ohio's major cities.

The 49 candidates include 28 Democrats, 16 Republicans and five from minor parties or independents.

The most crowded primary is the Democratic race for lieutenant governor, where there are nine entrants. Six Democrats are seeking the nomination for secretary of state.

Dale Reusch of Lodi: A Klansman Who Wants to Be Ohio Governor

Editor's Note: The Journal is reporting in depth today about the Ku Klux Klan grand dragon in an attempt to provide our readers with more information about the man and the organization.

By RICK ZARBAUGH
Elyria Bureau Chief

DALE REUSCH is a big burly man of 34 — The Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Ohio — who does not like to think of himself as a Republican or Democrat.

"I am not liberal or conservative," he said. "I am an American and an American I will be."

Dale Reusch is a descendant of one of Medina County's founding families. His parents were farmers and although he abandoned the life of a farmer to drive 36 miles one way to make auto parts at Ford Motor Company's Brook Park plant in 1957, he believes hard work never hurt anyone.

He wants to be Governor of Ohio.

Reusch believes the road to the governor's mansion in Columbus from his small home in Lodi, Ohio will be difficult, if not impossible to pass.

But with the help of other blue collar workers like himself and a little help from his friends at the Ku Klux Klan he plans to give it to the old college try.

HE IS THE GRAND DRAGON of the Ku Klux Klan's 5,000 members in Ohio. It is the Klan's highest state office.

"Joining the Klan was the greatest thing I ever did," said the Grand Dragon. "After all I made it to the top of the Klan through hard work and dedication and I feel it will carry me to become governor."

What makes Reusch's chances more difficult than they would be under normal circumstances is the fact his name will not be on the printed ballot. An insufficient number of signatures on his petitions threw him off the Democratic Primary. But he filed as a write in candidate.

His campaign — aimed at the working class — will be a rock-bottom financed one, but one Reusch believes is well planned.

There is only $1,500 to spend while the other candidates will spend up to 20 times that. He hopes for some small donations to be received at the Klan's mailing address — Post Office Box 248 in Lodi.

His printing will be done in the basement and one of his main ideas is to "print up a bunch of $2 bills with my picture on them. I can remember a couple years back when all I had to spend was $62 and I came within 1,700 votes of winning the Democratic primary of sheriff of Medina County."

HOW WILL being a member of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan affect his chances?

"It will definitely help me," he believes. "My campaign is aimed at the working class who does not get anything from the Republicans or Democrats."

"The Klan stands for righting America which is decaying and I can do it," Reusch said. "I can offer solutions to crime and I will not be controlled."

"The judges are too lenient on the criminals and if they cannot enforce the laws then we will throw them out," he promised. "The people do their job and then the judge lets the criminal go free."

Win or lose, Reusch said his dreams for a better America should be carried on by the two major parties. "If I can get that across then I have accomplished something."

All his spare time is wrapped up in Klan activities. He travels the state organizing new chapters. There is no salary, but the Klan covers most of his expenses.

ON A SATURDAY afternoon he can be seen passing out Klan literature at parking lots, often stuffing a small piece of paper under a windshield wiper which states "Dear Friend: If you believe in God, White womanhood and the future of the United States of America, join and serve with us in the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan."

What is the Ku Klux Klan?

It is a secret, masked organization founded after the American Civil War that became the chief instrument of the white underground movement in the South against domination from blacks and northerners.

It was disbanded and restarted several times and after World War I developed into a political power. The Klansmen wore hoods and robes and burned fiery crosses to frighten the blacks and others they wanted to intimidate.

Congress enacted several laws to suppress the Klan. One of its leaders, Confederate Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest ordered the secrecy disbanded in 1869 because of increased violence including murders. But to some southerners the Klan was the only answer to their problems.

The Klan was rejuvenated in 1915 and added Catholics and Jews to its list of enemies. Its purpose was to protect white womanhood and the supremacy of White protestants.

THE KLAN became powerful in politics in the 1920s and 1930s controlling members in both parties. But several scandals and the sentencing of the Grand Dragon of Indiana to prison for murder tore down its aggression that saw $1 million a day pour into Klan headquarters in Atlanta.

There are no daily newspapers in the Reusch home and Reusch admits to keeping up on the problems in America "by listening a little to the radio on the way to work and home."

"Most of my news I need to get comes from the national weekly newsletter from the Klan in Washington," he said.

Home for Reusch, his wife, Valerie and two sons, Mark, 13, and Ricky, 8, is a 220 Gaylord St., Lodi.

The small two-story home, which is in need of a paint job inside and out, is about the only asset he owns. He does own a much-traveled 1969 Ford Galaxie hardtop with a two-way radio and the Klan shield in the back window. A rickety old Buick sits in the backyard.

"I am poor, very poor," he said. "I make about $230 for a 40 hour week and outside of my home and car and a few savings bonds I have nothing."

DALE REUSCH is proud of his home, cluttered with Klan literature in most every room. In the front yard is a Red Delicious Apple tree he brought along. "One year it had only one apple," he said.

All the Klan literature and his $22 silk green robe which identifies him as Grand Dragon is at ready reach.

But his hood — well that's a different story.

"I mislaid my hood," he admitted with a smile. "I was going to be on the Morning Exchange (a television show) in Cleveland and took all my literature with me and I must have placed the hood in it somewhere."

"I have performed three meetings where I installed new members without it," he said. "That's kind of embarrassing."

In the dining room there are two pictures of Alabama Gov. George Wallace, one of Reusch's idols. There is also a shotgun standing in one corner and three pictures of Jesus Christ.

"The Klan has four major creeds," Reusch said. "Christian faith comes first, then Country, family and organization."

"I KNOW of no more religious or American organization in the country," he said. "Everything is falling to pieces in the country, but the Klan is still based on religion."

The Klan is nowhere near as powerful as it was during the peak years of 1920s and 1930s when there were about eight million members including high ranking politicians.

"President Harding was buried in his Klan robe and over a million Klansmen attended his funeral," Reusch points out. "Justice (Hugo) Black of the Supreme Court is also a Klansman and so were President Coolidge and McKinley." (Actually Justice Black joined the Klan as a youngster and later repudiated it.)

The Harding Museum at Marion, Ohio, was not able to confirm that Harding was in fact buried in his Klan robes.

The ideas of the Klan are basically the same as they were in the "golden era." They are anti - blacks, anti - Semitic and stand for law and order as prescribed by the Klan.

But they say they are more peaceful and open than before.

"IF A PERSON wants to keep his member-

"I myself have taken in more Catholics as members than Protestants in the last year."

ship secret then it is secret," Reusch said. "But I insist on all my officers being out in the open."

"When I rent a post office box I rent it in the name of the Klan and not in some dummy name," he said. "People should know who we are."

"The only time the Klan moved before was when nothing was done on rape and malicious murder," Reusch said. "The Klan felt it was its job to provide law and order."

"There were people in robes and masks and they even robbed the horses because a person was identified by his horse like he is by his car today," he said. "The secrecy was to protect the Klansman from the people."

"Things have changed in the Klan as we are rebuilding it today," said the Grand Dragon.

Reusch has participated in only one march as a Klansman since joining in 1965. He marched on Washington in a rally in 1969 aimed at stopping some anti - Vietnam war demonstrators.

He has turned down marches for his people because he does not feel anything would be gained by it.

"We believe today in thinking out our problems and finding a peaceful solution," he said. "The government spies on all of us Klan-people anyway."

"BUT I HAPPEN to believe that the battles should not be fought in the street," he said. "That is not the way to do it although others disagree."

"In 1969 when we marched on Washington there were some demonstrators who tore down the American Flag and burned them and replaced them with Vietcong flags," he said. "I can still see this American Legion man with tears in his eyes coming to me and saying 'can't you do something.'"

"We did all right," he said. "We tore down all the Viet Cong flags and destroyed them and enforced the laws as they should be. They were destroying our country and what we fought for."

"I have always been a working man and I will die one," he said. "A lot of hard work never hurt anyone."

Reusch said he was mystified about the Klan because he heard so much about it, but never knew what it was all about.

"IT WAS A POLICE state at the first meeting I went to," he said. "I had to know more about it. I invited them to rally at my folks farm and when they came I was embarrassed."

"The things the Imperial Wizard (James Venable of Atlanta) said about the Klan made sense to me, but I had to know more and the best way I knew was to join," he said.

"My friends on the sheriff's department and police department turned the rally into a police state by searching everyone," he said. "They were just like most others who have heard the bad about the klan but never the good."

"That is my big grievance," he said. "The Klan has done good as well as bad."

"For example there was a woman in Nor-

"We still believe in separation of races. It goes back to the Bible and is sort of a religious thing."

walk who said her husband who worked at the shipyards in Lorain was always drunk and never bringing money home," he said. "The Klan brought coal and food and clothing and talked to the guy."

"He did not shape up and when they returned they took him out back and I do not know what they did to him — probably scared the daylight out of him — but she said he shaped up and was a good husband after that."

"A lot has changed my mind about the Klan because of all the good it does," Reusch believes. "I myself could not recommend any more helpful order."

"The Klan is a true Christian order," he said. "We are patriotic and we care."

"Lending his gloves or current tonics."

BLACKS: "We still believe in separation of race. It goes back to the Bible and it is sort of a religious stand. It said in Genesis 'replenish after your own kind and not seek strange flesh.' The Bible is built on separation of race."

JEWS: "They are not Christians and you have to be one to join the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. I would not be allowed to go to their services unless I join."

CATHOLICS: "I myself have taken in more Catholics as members than Protestants in the last year. They are as good as white Christians because they stick to their religious beliefs better. The Protestants are too far divided."

BUSING: "I am opposed to it just to achieve racial balance. If you have to bus because of a mechanical failure at the school okay, but not just to balance the races."

AMNESTY: "Draft dodgers may have had their reasons for going to Canada and elsewhere, but what about the people who did fight and were killed or maimed? Have they been forgotten? Basically draft dodgers are not good."

STATE INCOME TAX: "I am opposed to it. At the time Gilligan got it passed it was trickery by profession and trade because of the way it was worded on the ballot. You voted no if you wanted it and it confused the people and was unconstitutional."

WELFARE: "If a person is healthy and able to work he should. Why not let us hire them to help clean up the cities and country instead of spending say $100,000 for a big piece of machinery. Those who are sick and disabled should get welfare."

PRESIDENT NIXON: "I just got through watching him on television (Tuesday night) and he is under tremendous pressures. While I do not agree with many of his foreign policies. I do like what he is saying about the fuel for farmers. The inflation has caused food to go too high and he is planning to deal with that. As for impeachment, well if he has committed any criminal acts, then yes he should be thrown out. But so far no one has shown me anything that leads me to believe he is involved like that. His impeachment would divide us even farther in this great land."

FORMER PRESIDENT EISENHOWER: "Generally, I think he sold out Europe. He should have listened to General Patton and gone into Russia and killed them off and ended the war and Communism. A lot of innocent people have had to suffer because of it."

KENT STATE INCIDENT: "You have to look at it in two phases. Property damage and killing the students. The students must realize that they cannot destroy public buildings and if they break the law they must be punished. But as for the killings, well I am against killing anyone. But I believe the guard fired under tension. I think they heard something that sounded like a shot and feared the great number of students so they shot back."

A source advised that on May 22, 1960, the National Grand Council of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan met at Atlanta, Georgia, to discuss consolidation of the Klan's unity of effort and activities to establish a National Fund, and a National Secretary, and to design a new flag. The meeting was attended by representatives of the Federation of the Ku Klux Klan, Alabama; Association of the Arkansas Klans, Arkansas; Florida Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Florida; Southern Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Florida; Association of Georgia Klans, Georgia; Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, North Carolina; Association of South Carolina Klans, South Carolina; Dixie Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Tennessee; and Kykses Klan, Texas.

This source advised that at a consolidation meeting at Atlanta, Georgia, September 2-5, 1960, at which the North Carolina and Texas Klans were not represented, it was resolved and passed that their names be changed to National Ku Klux Klan.

[redacted] source advised in March, 1964, that several meetings of Klan groups were held during the period 1960-1963, in an effort to unite the Klan groups under a single leadership.

The organization was granted a charter in DeKalb County, Georgia, November 1, 1963, under the name National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., as a "patriotic, secret, social, and benevolent order".

[redacted] source advised in December, 1963, that the organization had issued a statement of its progress which indicated the organization to be anti-Negro, anti-Jewish, anti-Catholic, and anti-foreign born.

[redacted] source advised on May 15, 1974, that the organization now has its headquarters in a building located on the property of James Venable at Stone Mountain, Georgia. Weekly meetings are held with usually between 15-20 people in attendance.
